

Business Administration

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

The American University of Malta's Business Administration Program recognizes that society is rapidly evolving thanks to an increasingly global cultural climate and rapid developments in technology. This mirrors itself in trends and practices in businesses worldwide. Well-established corporations as well as start-ups that want to make the cut are on the lookout for team players who possess a strong leadership and entrepreneurial spirit.

Our faculty members who will be guiding you are both academics and industry experts with real-life experience whose savoir faire implies they've been there and done that. And it's this savoir faire that they want to convey to you, the student. By engaging in individual and group projects, discussions, case studies, and more, you will harness critical acumen as well as practical and constructive skills to tackle issues in contemporary business settings effectively.

In order to weave together the fabric that you will take with you into the corporate or the entrepreneurial world, whichever you may choose, AUM's Degree in Business and Administration explores pivotal elements in:

- Accounting
- Economics
- Finance
- Marketing
- Statistics and Maths
- Information Systems
- Behavioral Patterns
- Human Resources
- Entrepreneurship and Sustainability
